

Panel II: Financing: How to adjust the current own resources system?

Next MFF: distributive, allocative and stabilization functions

High Level Conference

Sofia, 9 March 2018

Dirk H. Kranen

Head of Division, EU-Budget and Finance,
Federal Ministry of Finance, Berlin

German Position

- Current own resource system serves its purpose in a very good way.
  - GNI-based own resource should be recognized as the most fair and best own resource.
  - The current system guarantees a fair burden sharing.

German Position

---

- No need for a new own resource. An additional own resource would only change the structure of financing and would not create more financial space.
  - A new own resource would redistribute the financial burden among member states.
  - The current system could be simplified by abolishing the VAT-based own resource.

German Position

---

- The withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the Union must not lead to a budgetary burden that is excessive in relative terms for some Member States.
  - The need for a correction mechanism remains.
