Chapter One GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section I Scope

Article 1. This Act shall regulate:

1. the requirements to bookkeeping and accounting systems of enterprises, accounting documents and accounting information, the inventory of assets and liabilities and the storage of accounting information;
2. the applicable basis of accounting in financial reporting;
3. the content and the preparation of financial statements, management reports and reports on payments to governments of enterprises and groups of enterprises;
4. the obligations for independent financial audit and disclosure of financial statements, management reports and reports on payments to governments of enterprises and groups of enterprises;
5. the duties and responsibilities of the manager of the enterprise.

Article 2. For the purposes of this Act enterprises shall be:

1. (supplemented, SG No. 97/2016, effective 1.01.2017) merchants within the meaning of the Commerce Act, including branches of foreign merchants;
2. local legal entities other than merchants;
3. budget-funded enterprises;
4. (amended, SG No. 97/2016, effective 1.01.2017) consortia within the meaning of the Commerce Act, the companies under the Obligations and Contracts Act, joint ventures and other alliances based on contractual relations, in which the parties have rights to net assets;
5. (amended, SG No. 19/2021) the payment funds and the contribution payment centres within the meaning of the Social Insurance Code;
6. trade representations;
7. foreign legal entities engaged in business activities in the Republic of Bulgaria through a place of business, except where the business is carried out by a non-resident of a Member State of the European Union or of another country – a signatory to the Agreement on the European Economic Area, only under the conditions of freedom to provide services.

Section II

Bookkeeping, accounting documents, accounting information and accounting systems

Article 3. (1) Bookkeeping shall be organised in accordance with this Act and shall be carried out under the double-entry accounting method.

(2) Enterprises shall keep accounts of all business transactions resulting in changes in their property and financial position, the financial results from operations, the cash flows and equity, in a chronological order.

(3) Enterprises shall keep their accounts on the basis of documentary justification of business transactions and facts while observing the requirements for drawing up documents hereunder.

(4) Sole traders with net sales revenue for the previous period not exceeding BGN 50,000 may account for their operations applying the single-entry accounting method.

Article 4. (1) An accounting document shall be any paper or technical carrier of accounting information, classified as primary, secondary and a ledger.

(2) A primary document shall carry information about a business transaction recorded for the first time.

(3) A secondary document shall carry processed (summarised or differentiated) information derived from primary accounting documents.

(4) A ledger shall carry chronologically systematised information about business transactions derived from primary and/or secondary accounting documents.

(5) (Amended, SG No. 85/2017) An accounting document under paragraph (1) may be an electronic document containing the information required under this Act, issued and obtained in any electronic format subject to the requirements of the Electronic Document and Electronic Trust Services Act.

Article 5. (1) Primary accounting documents of enterprises shall be drawn up in the Bulgarian language, in Arabic numerals and in Bulgarian leva (BGN). Accounting documents may also be drawn up in the respective foreign language and in foreign currency in cases of transactions negotiated in foreign currency with foreign contractors. When the transaction is negotiated in foreign currency, its BGN equivalent amount shall be determined by applying the central exchange rate of the Bulgarian National Bank to the foreign currency amount as of the date of the transaction.

(2) The accounting documents received at the enterprise in a foreign language shall be translated in Bulgarian in the cases set forth by law.

Article 6. (1) A primary accounting document addressed to an external recipient shall contain at least the following information:

1. name and number of the document, including only Arabic numerals;
2. date of issue;
3. company name or name, address and identification code from the Commercial Register or unified identification code under BULSTAT or personal identification number or serial number of foreigner of the issuer and the recipient;
4. subject, physical and value expression of the business transaction.

(2) The address under paragraph (1), item 3 shall be the address for correspondence referred to in Article 28 (1) of the Tax-Insurance Procedure Code.

(3) The primary accounting document which pertains only to the enterprise's operations shall contain, at a minimum, the following information:

1. name and number of the document, including only Arabic numerals;
2. date of issue;
3. name of the enterprise;
4. subject, physical and value expression of the business transaction;
5. name and signature of the individual drawing up the document.

(4) When drawing up an accounting document pertaining only to the enterprise's operations by means of automatic devices or systems, the signature of the drawer may be substituted by a digital signature or by another identifier, unambiguously identifying and recognising the drawer of the accounting document.

(5) The documentary justification shall be present when part of the required information under paragraphs (1) and (3) in the primary accounting document is missing, but there are documents verifying it.

(6) Beyond the cases referred to in paragraph (5), documentary justification shall be deemed to exist also where the primary accounting document has been issued by a person which is not an enterprise in the meaning of this Act and there is some missing information in the document, which is required under paragraph (1), provided such document reflects correctly the documented business transaction.

(7) Upon payment of public and private government and municipal liabilities arising on the grounds and in accordance with a law, it shall be deemed that the business transaction is justified by a document based on the presence of the relevant payment document for the payment made.

Article 7. (1) A primary accounting document under Article 6 (1) shall be issued, where this is provided for in a law.

(2) (Amended, SG No. 13/2019) Issuance of a primary accounting document shall be optional when the business transaction is documented with a fiscal receipt or a system receipt, issued in accordance with the procedure laid down in the ordinance referred to in Article 118(4) of the Value Added Tax Act, or by a security printed in accordance with the procedure laid down for the printing of securities and the recipient of the primary accounting document is a natural person other than a merchant.

(3) (New, SG No. 13/2019) The Council of Ministers lay down in an ordinance the terms and procedure for the printing and control of securities. Persons who or which wish to print securities shall file a notification with the Ministry of Finance.

(4) (Renumbered from Paragraph (3), SG No. 13/2019) Paragraph (2) shall not apply where the recipient has required the issuance of a primary accounting document.

Article 8. No corrections or additions shall be allowed in the primary accounting documents. Any primary accounting documents that have been erroneously drawn up shall be cancelled and new ones shall be drawn up.

Article 9. The following shall not be allowed:

1. accounting for business transactions outside accounting books or records;
2. accounting of fictitious or insufficiently identified transactions, non-existent expenses and liabilities of inaccurately identified subject, carried out for the purpose of bribing officials or concealing a bribe.

Article 10. The persons who have drawn up and signed the accounting documents and technical information carriers shall be liable for the authenticity of the information contained therein.

Article 11. (1) In establishing and maintaining its accounting system, an enterprise shall ensure:

1. a comprehensive chronological registration of the accounting transactions;
2. receipt of analytical and summary information through accounting means, representing most accurately and appropriately the annual financial statements of the enterprise;
3. interim and annual closing of accounting records;
4. making changes in the book entries made, by making adjusting accounting entries;
5. application of an individual chart of accounts as approved by the manager of the enterprise;

6. application of an accounting policy as approved by the manager of the enterprise.

(2) Where accounting software is used for the purposes of bookkeeping, such software must have been developed in compliance with the requirements of this Act and shall support data processed by means thereof and the output documents shall be in the Bulgarian language.

Section III Storage of accounting information

Article 12. (1) Accounting information shall be stored on paper and/or technical carrier in the enterprise within the following time limits:

1. payrolls – 50 years from 1 January of the reporting period, following the accounting period to which they refer;

2. accounting records and financial statements, including documents for tax control, audit and subsequent financial inspections – 10 years from 1 January of the reporting period, following the accounting period to which they refer;

3. all the other carriers of accounting information – three years from 1 January of the reporting period, following the accounting period to which they refer.

(2) Accounting information may be stored in private or public records in accordance with the National Archive Fund Act subject to compliance with the requirements under paragraph (1).

(3) Where an enterprise is wound up by reorganisation, carriers (paper and/or technical) of accounting information shall be handed over to the receiving and/or newly established enterprise/enterprises.

(4) Upon winding up of an enterprise or if the enterprise has no legal successor, the payrolls shall be handed over to the National Social Security Institute under the procedure of Article 5 (10) of the Social Security Code.

Article 13. Upon expiry of the prescribed time limit for storage, the carriers (paper or technical) of accounting information that are not subject to submission to the National Archive Fund or to the National Social Security Institute may be destroyed.

Article 14. (1) Upon termination of employment, civil service or contractual relationship with a person who carries out bookkeeping and draws up financial statements, the accounting records shall be handed over to a person designated by the manager of the enterprise.

(2) The acceptance and hand-over referred to in paragraph (1) shall be performed in the presence of a committee following a procedure as established by the manager of the enterprise.

(3) Upon termination of the employment, civil service or contractual relationship of the manager of the enterprise such manager shall hand over the whole accounting and other official documentation available to him/her to a person designated by the relevant competent authority.

Section IV Powers of the minister of finance

Article 15. The minister of finance shall:

Section I Categories of enterprises

Article 19. (1) For the purposes of this Act, the following categories of enterprises shall exist:

1. micro-enterprises;
2. small enterprises;
3. medium-sized enterprises;
4. large enterprises.

(2) Micro-enterprises shall be enterprises which at 31 December of the current reporting period do not exceed at least two of the following criteria:

1. book value of the assets – BGN 700,000;
2. net sales revenue – BGN 1,400,000;
3. average number of employees for the reporting period: 10.

(3) Small enterprises shall be enterprises which at 31 December of the current reporting period do not exceed at least two of the following criteria:

1. book value of the assets – BGN 8,000,000;
2. net sales revenue – BGN 16,000,000;
3. average number of employees for the reporting period: 50.

(4) Medium-sized enterprises shall be enterprises other than small enterprises which at 31 December of the current reporting period do not exceed at least two of the following criteria:

1. book value of the assets – BGN 38,000,000;
2. net sales revenue – BGN 76,000,000;
3. average number of employees for the reporting period: 250.

(5) Large enterprises shall be enterprises which at 31 December of the current reporting period exceed at least two of the following criteria:

1. book value of the assets – BGN 38,000,000;
2. net sales revenue – BGN 76,000,000;
3. average number of employees for the reporting period: 250.

Article 20. (1) A change in the category under Article 19 shall be made when the enterprise no longer meets two of the three criteria for the relevant category in the last two accounting periods. The category shall be changed from the beginning of the next (third) reporting period.

(2) In the cases referred to in paragraph (1) when the enterprise meets the indicators for two different categories in the last two accounting periods, it shall be categorised by the indicators of the last accounting period.

(3) For the reporting period in which an enterprise referred to in § 1, item 22 of the supplementary provisions ceases to be a public interest enterprise, it shall keep its accounts as a public interest enterprise.

Section II Categories of groups of enterprises

Article 21. (1) For the purposes of this Act, the following categories of groups of enterprises shall exist:

1. small groups;
2. medium-sized groups;
3. large groups.

(2) Small groups shall be groups of enterprises, whose sum of the indicators based on their annual financial statements on a consolidated basis, prepared as of 31 December of the current reporting period, does not exceed the thresholds of at least two of the three following criteria:

1. book value of the assets – BGN 8,000,000;
2. net sales revenue – BGN 16,000,000;
3. average number of employees for the reporting period: 50.

(3) Medium-sized groups shall be groups of enterprises, whose sum of the indicators based on their annual financial statements on a consolidated basis, prepared as of 31 December of the current reporting period, does not exceed the thresholds of at least two of the three following criteria:

2. net sales revenue – BGN 76,000,000;
3. average number of employees for the reporting period: 250.

(5) (New, SG No. 97/2016, effective 1.01.2017) The categories of groups of enterprises may be furthermore defined on the basis of the sum of the values of the indicators in the individual annual financial statements of the companies in the group, prepared as of 31 December of the current reporting period. In this case, in determining the category of the group, the thresholds of the indicators for the book value of assets and the net sales revenue under paragraphs (2), (3) and (4) shall be increased by 20 per cent.

Article 22. (1) A change in the category under Article 21 shall be made when the enterprise for the last two reporting periods no longer meets two of the three criteria for the relevant category. The category shall be changed from the beginning of the next reporting period.

(2) In the cases referred to in paragraph (1) when the enterprise meets the indicators for two different categories in the last two reporting periods, it shall be categorised by the indicators of the last accounting period.

Chapter Three FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Section I General requirements to the financial statements

Article 23. The financial statements shall be drawn up in the Bulgarian language, with Arabic numerals and in thousands of leva (BGN).

Article 24. (1) The financial statements shall give a true and fair view of the property and financial position and financial performance of the enterprise, its cash flows and equity.

(2) The true and fair presentation requires a reliable disclosure of the effects of the operations, other events and conditions in accordance with the definitions and the recognition criteria for assets, liabilities, income and expenses set out in the applicable accounting standards.

(3) The content of the financial statements shall be clear and understandable.

Article 25. (1) The financial statements shall indicate:

1. the name of the enterprise, its legal form, seat and registered office, as well as information as to whether the enterprise is wound up;
2. the register in which the enterprise is recorded, and its registration number from such register;
3. other information required under this or any other act and the applicable accounting standards.

(2) The financial statements shall be signed by:

1. the manager of the enterprise;
2. the individual who has prepared the financial statements or by the representative and/or manager of the accounting firm when the financial statements have been prepared by an accounting firm.

(3) (Amended, SG No. 98/2018, effective 1.01.2019) Indicated in the financial statements shall be the names of the persons referred to in paragraph (2). A stamp of the company and a stamp of the accounting firm shall be affixed only if this is required by another act.

(4) Where the financial statements are subject to an independent financial audit, the signatures and seals of the persons who conducted the independent financial audit of the financial statements shall be affixed in accordance with the requirements of the Independent Financial Audit Act.

(5) (New, SG No. 105/2020, effective 1.01.2021) Upon preparation of the annual financial statements, the signatures referred to in Paragraphs 2 and 4 may be electronic signatures within the meaning given under Article 13 of the Electronic Document and Electronic Trust Services Act.

Article 26. (1) The items to be presented in the financial statements shall be recognised and measured in accordance with the following principles:

1. going concern: it is assumed that the enterprise is a going concern and will remain one in the foreseeable future; it is assumed that the enterprise does not have either the intention or the need to liquidate or significantly reduce the size of its operations;

2. consistency of presentation and comparative information: the presentation and classification of items in the financial statements, the accounting policies and methods of evaluation shall be retained and applied consistently and in subsequent reporting periods in order to achieve comparability of the financial data and indicators of financial statements;

3. prudence: evaluation and consideration of potential risks and estimated potential losses in the accounting treatment of business transactions to ensure that an actual financial result is obtained;

4. accrual: the enterprise shall prepare its financial statements, except for the cash flow statements, based on the accrual concept – the effects of transactions and other events shall be recognised when they occur, regardless of the time of receipt or payment of cash or its equivalents, and shall be included in the financial statements for the period to which they refer;

5. independence of the individual reporting periods and value link between opening balance and closing balance: each reporting period shall be treated per se in accounting terms, independent of its objective relation to the previous and the following reporting periods, while data in the financial statements at the beginning of the current reporting period shall match the data at the end of the previous reporting period.

6. materiality: the enterprise shall present separately each material group of items of similar nature; consolidation of amounts by items of similar nature is admissible where the amounts are immaterial or their consolidation aims to achieve greater clarity; the amount of an item is material if any deficiencies and incorrect presentation of the item could affect the business decisions of the users, based on the financial statements, or could lead to a violation of the requirement for a true and fair presentation of the property and financial position, the financial results of its operations, and changes in cash flows and equity;

7. offset: the enterprise does not offset assets against liabilities or income and expenses and reports separately both assets and liabilities, and income and expenses;

8. substance over form: transactions and events are accounted for in accordance with their content, essence and business reality, not formally, based on their legal form;

9. measurement of items which are recognised in the financial statements is carried at cost, which may be the purchase price or production cost or by some other method, when this is required by the applicable accounting standards.

(2) Enterprises shall keep their accounts in accordance with the principles referred to in paragraph (1) or in compliance with the principles and requirements of the International Accounting Standards when the accounting basis of the enterprise is based on the International Accounting Standards.

Article 27. Enterprises shall compile:

1. annual financial statements as of 31 December in thousands of Bulgarian levs (BGN);

2. consolidated financial statement as of 31 December of the reporting period, when the parent company is a company under Title Three of Part Two of the Commerce Act;

3. interim financial statements covering a shorter period than one reporting period, when this is required by a law or by a decision of the manager of the enterprise.

Section II Inventory taking

Article 28. (1) Enterprises shall take inventory of the assets and liabilities at least once a year for the purpose of their fair presentation in the financial statements.

(2) Enterprises whose net sales revenues do not exceed BGN 200,000 for the current reporting period, shall not take mandatory inventory under paragraph (1).

(3) Inventory taking shall be carried out also on a decision of the manager of the enterprise, at the request of the authorities of the judiciary and other authorities, as may be provided for by a law.

Section III Annual financial statements

Article 29. (1) The annual financial statements for all enterprises shall comprise at least a balance sheet, an income statement and notes.

(2) The format, structure and content of the full set of the financial statements shall be defined by the applicable accounting standards.

(3) The annual financial statements of sole traders whose net sales revenues for the current reporting period do not exceed BGN 200,000 and are not subject to statutory independent financial audit may consist only of an income statement.

(4) (Amended, SG No. 97/2017, effective 1.01.2018) The annual financial statements of micro-enterprises may consist only of a summary balance sheet by sections and a summary income statement.

(5) Paragraph (4) shall not apply to investment firms and financial holding companies, categorised as micro-enterprises.

(6) (Amended, SG No. 97/2017, effective 1.01.2018) The annual financial statements of small enterprises may consist of a summary balance sheet by sections, a summary income statement, and notes.

(7) The annual financial statements referred to in paragraphs (3), (4) and (6) shall give a true and fair view of the assets, liabilities, financial position and the results of the operations of the enterprise.

(8) The enterprises referred to in paragraphs (1), (3), (4) and (6) may choose to compile a full set of financial statements.

(9) The annual financial statements of medium-sized and large enterprises and of public interest enterprises shall be drawn up in the full set in accordance with the applicable accounting standards.

(10) Enterprises, when controlled by the State or municipalities, or when assisted thereby through subsidies, preferential loans, government guarantees or other forms of state aid, may be required by the minister of finance to present additional statements and information following requirements as to format, contents, timing and procedure for drawing up and presentation as set by the minister of finance.

Article 30. (1) Large enterprises and public interest enterprises shall disclose in the notes the amounts charged for the year for the services provided by registered auditors, separately for:

1. independent financial audit;
2. tax advice;
3. other non-audit services.

(2) Similarly, the notes to the consolidated financial statements shall contain a disclosure of the information under paragraph (1) with regard to enterprises included in the consolidation.

Section IV Consolidated financial statements

Article 31. (1) Consolidated financial statements shall be drawn up by the parent enterprise in accordance with the rules and requirements of:

1. the National Accounting Standards – for the enterprises that compile and submit annual financial statements on the basis of the National Accounting Standards;
2. the International Accounting Standards – for the enterprises that compile and submit annual financial statements on the basis of the International Accounting Standards.

(2) Consolidated financial statements shall be drawn up by the parent enterprise regardless of the location of the seats of its subsidiaries.

Article 32. The preparation of consolidated financial statements shall not be mandatory for the parent enterprise of a small group, unless the group has at least one public interest enterprise.

Article 33. The format, structure and content of the full set of the consolidated financial statements shall be defined by the applicable accounting standards.
